

MARY'S NEWS: NOVEMBER

From Mumbai to Omaha, Kumarakom to San Jose, Mary has been creating, teaching and exhibiting. She spent the last part of October with her husband Kirby in an eight-city tour of southern India, experiencing what she describes as a sweep of textiles, spices, teas and temples."

This month includes the opening of a solo show, workshops and panel discussions, on-going participation in a biennial and two works featured in an art auction:

THIS WEEKEND

10th ANNUAL BEMIS CENTER AUCTION:

Two of Mary's works are included in the Bemis Center for Contemporary Arts' annual auction on Saturday, November 22. Her weft-face ikat tapestry "Blue Print" is featured in the live auction, and the framed colographic monoprint "Tools/Green Box" is in the silent auction. On Sunday, November 15, the Omaha World Herald included the former work on the front page of its arts and entertainment section as one of the 10 most important pieces in the auction.
